Mountain Crane Christmas Party

Mountain Crane Service held its annual Christmas party for employees and families early in December. With almost 350 people in attendance we had quite a crowd to enjoy the various games and activities set up throughout the facility.

A highlight of the evening was every child getting a chance to sit on Santa's lap and receiving an early Christmas present.

Mountain Crane Service wants to thank its employees once again for all their hard work and great attitudes. We have an excellent group of people and have a great time getting to know them and their families better.

Annual Safety Training

Mountain Crane Service employees went through several consecutive sessions of safety training over the holiday break. Mountain Crane likes to take advantage of the down time during the winter months to renew certifications and be prepared for a new year. Safety is a high priority at Mountain Crane and we had over 90% attendance. Those who were unable to attend will renew their training certificates in upcoming weeks.

Employees are now certified for 2012 through the Wyoming/Montana Safety Council, Utah Safety Council, and MSHA. They also received a full course in first aid and CPR.

We had several excellent instructors for these trainings. If you would like additional information regarding these instructors feel free to contact Gary Rehmer at gary@mountaincrane.com.

Employee Spotlight

Andrew Wolfgramm is Mountain Crane's new Accounts Payable. He has worked for Utah's #1 home builder for the past 8 and 1/2 years; the crane industry intrigued him enough that he wanted to make a job change and he has been excited to learn all he can. His favorite thing about Mountain Crane, so far, has been getting to know everyone and the great work environment.

He grew up in West Jordan, Utah and currently lives in Bountiful. He has been married to his wife Erika for 5 years and has a 2 and 1/2 year old daughter named Lenna and a 6 month old son named Henry. In his spare time, he loves playing with his kids and watching sports. He received his Bachelor's degree from the University of Utah and is currently pursuing a graduate degree in Accounting.
